Qatar COVID-19 Travel Update – August 4, 2021

People must register before traveling to Qatar. A negative coronavirus test is required in the 72 hours before arrival. Visitors who were fully inoculated in the 14 to 379 days before arrival can take an antibody test upon arrival and if it is positive, they do not need to quarantine. Unvaccinated passengers, including children traveling with their vaccinated parents, need to quarantine in a hotel for seven days, according to the Qatar Ministry of Public Health.